Name of the indicator	8.6.a Net international migration for permanent residence
Sustainable Development Goal	Goal 8. Decent work and economic growth
Priority	Development of responsible migration policy
Definition	Proportion of employed persons among the immigrant population aged 15–64 years.
Unit	percent [%]
Available dimensions	total
Methodological explanations	This indicator measures the proportion of employed persons among the immigrant working-age population and is used to assess immigrant labour market integration. The numerator comprises employed immigrants aged 15-64. The denominator comprises the total immigrant population aged 15-64. The indicator is expressed as a percentage. Employed persons (including self-employed) are defined as individuals who, during the reference week, performed at least one hour of work for pay or profit, or who had a job but were temporarily absent from work (e.g. due to leave). Immigrants are defined as persons who have moved from abroad to the country with the intention of settling (residing permanently) or for a temporary stay.
