

Statistics for the SDGs - indicators for regional priorities

Name of the indicator	6.D.3 Water treatment plants in rural areas per 10 thous. population
Sustainable Development Goal	Goal 6. Clean water and sanitation
Priority
Definition	Number of water treatment plants in rural areas per 10 000 inhabitants of rural areas
Unit	-
Available dimensions	total
Methodological explanations	Water treatment plants are one of the water management devices. Their task is to clean water from contaminants and adjust water parameters to the required condition before supplying to customers using the water supply network. Data on the number of water treatment plants as of 31 December. The number of water treatment plants built and modernised is given on the basis of data provided by the Municipal Offices and the Marshal's Offices to the Ministry of Agriculture and Rural Development in form "RRW-2" – report on the implementation of investments in water supply and rural areas sanitation.
Data source	Ministry of Agriculture and Rural Development
Data availability	Annual data, since 2010
Notes
Data updated on
Metadata updated on	